

Soldiers Arrested For Deaths of Women, Salvador Confirms

Loien Jenkins

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Col. Jose Garcia, the Salvadoran minister, has confirmed that six members of his armed forces were arrested on suspicion of murdering four women last December.

The U.S. State Department said that the six suspects were arrested on suspicion of murdering four women last December. The women were found in an unmarked grave near the village of Santiago Nontulaco, 20 miles from where their van had been destroyed.

Col. Garcia insisted Saturday that the six men were only being held on suspicion, based mostly on the circumstantial evidence of their having been at the roadblock, pending more detailed incriminating evidence that he insisted the government was still awaiting from the FBI.

Col. Garcia said that the men were being held in jail with the Dec. 2 killings of missionaries — mms

Warren Hoge

TENANGO, Guatemala — The fighters show up some beans, some corn cobs in this highland Guatemalan village.

After a guerrilla army convoy, young only one outlet for peace against the rebels had back into the hills.

There is a recognized political unrest throughout America, there are less differences among nations.

Maura Clarke, Ita Ford and Dorothy Kazel and lay worker Jean Donovan. The four women were last seen alive at San Salvador's airport shortly before nightfall.

The following day their van was found burned on a road northwest of the airport. A day later the four churchwomen's bodies were found in an unmarked grave near the village of Santiago Nontulaco, 20 miles from where their van had been destroyed.

From the beginning it had been suspected that six National Guardsmen, among El Salvador's most feared soldiers, had been responsible since they were known to be manning a roadblock just beyond the airport from which the churchwomen were driving that night.

Col. Garcia insisted Saturday that the six men were only being held on suspicion, based mostly on the circumstantial evidence of their having been at the roadblock, pending more detailed incriminating evidence that he insisted the government was still awaiting from the FBI.

Col. Garcia said that the men were being held in jail with the Dec. 2 killings of missionaries — mms

In a two-week period in Chimaltenango in March, 171 persons were killed, 43 disappeared after being kidnapped and 16 were wounded. In one town, Comalapa, residents decored their own curfew.

Chimaltenango had been singled out for terror for reasons that appear as counterproductive as the rightist campaign now under way to eliminate moderate and left-of-center political parties by assassinating their leaders.

Imprisoned Rightist Charged in Turkey

ANKARA — A military prosecutor here has charged Alpan Turkas, the imprisoned leader of the banned ultrarightist National Action Party and former deputy premier, with ordering the assassinations of a former radical union chief and the police chief of Adana, Turkey's fourth largest city.

Walesa Downplays Role, Departs for Japan Visit

United Press International

WARSAW — Lech Walesa, the Solidarity union leader, fresh from averting a riot when a police station was burned down, declared he was "replaceable" as he left on a labor delegation trip to Japan.

Mr. Walesa left Saturday less than 24 hours after he and other Solidarity leaders rushed to the town of Otwock, just south of Warsaw, to calm a potential riot by 500 youths.

The youths, upset about the alleged police beating of two drunk and belligerent Solidarity members, threatened to burn down a police office at the railway station in Otwock.

Mr. Walesa helped quiet the crowd. But within hours, the police station was gutted by flames, and a crowd of youths blocked fire-fighters from reaching the building.

It was the most blatant attack against authority in Poland's nine months of labor unrest, but Mr. Walesa and other Solidarity leaders dismissed the incident.

Mr. Walesa repeatedly has been a peacemaker during the labor unrest, but he said he had no qualms about leaving. "We are replaceable," he said, looking around at the Solidarity delegation accompanying him to Japan.

Mr. Walesa helped quiet the crowd. But within hours, the police station was gutted by flames, and a crowd of youths blocked fire-fighters from reaching the building.

Mr. Walesa repeatedly has been a peacemaker during the labor unrest, but he said he had no qualms about leaving.

HARD ON THE EARS — The big hand points to 12 and to Bianco, a dog belonging to the bell ringer at the cathedral in Lima's main plaza. Most mornings at 9, the dog plays cuckoo and adds a howl as its master tolls the hour.

Senate Cuts U.S. Retirement Programs

WASHINGTON — The Senate has voted to cut Social Security and other federal retirement programs by $7.9 billion next year in what could be a turning point in Social Security's costly history.

By a 49-42 vote Friday, the Senate accepted a proposal by its Budget Committee to save the money by reducing the automatic cost-of-living increases that 45 million retirees receive each year to help them keep pace with inflation.

The vote, reversing a stand taken by the Senate only a month ago, was the first time either house of Congress had voted a major cutback in Social Security, which has always been one of the political untouchables when it comes to budget cutting.

Cuts Planned

During last year's campaign, Ronald Reagan had included Social Security in the list of basic "safety net" programs that he would not disturb in his economic retrenchment drive. But administration officials said Congress that they were preparing proposals for large, as yet unspecified cuts because of concern for the system's solvency as well as fear of rising deficits.

Except for the retirement program savings, the budget now making its way through the Republican-controlled Senate differs little from the version approved Thursday by the Democratic-run House. Senate approval of the budget is expected by the middle of the week.

Nelson Algren, Novelist, Is Dead at 72; Best Sellers Chronicled Low Life in U.S.

New York Times Service

NEW YORK — Nelson Algren, 72, the novelist and short-story writer whose work included "A Walk on the Wild Side" and "The Man With the Golden Arm," died Saturday at his home in Sag Harbor, N.Y. Police reported that the author had died of an apparent heart attack.

Although both novels and several of his short stories are now generally acknowledged to be literary triumphs, Mr. Algren chose to walk on the losers' side all his life.

Mr. Algren himself counterattacked in "Notes From a Sea Diary: Hemingway All the Way" (1965), a series of sketches made on a freighter voyage to Asia, including a defense of Hemingway.

Miss Lindsay, who was born Margaret Kies in Dubuque, Iowa, went to Britain, where she worked briefly. She affected a British accent and borrowed the last name of the British ambassador to the United States at that time.

Upon her return to Hollywood, she was cast in Noel Coward's 1933 pageant of British patriotism "Cavalcade," with what was advertised as an all-British cast.

She next signed with Universal and was in several of Tom Mix's films before moving to Warner Bros., where she co-starred in "G-Men" with James Cagney; in "Jale of Fury" with Mr. Bogart; in "The Spoiler" with Mr. Wayne; and in "Bordertown" with Paul Muni.

She starred on Broadway with Roland Young in "Another Love Story" and toured with Franchot Tone in "The Second Man."

al gambler with a "lucky" arm and a morphine addiction, was published in 1949. It became a best seller and won a National Book Award.

It was also made into a successful motion picture by Otto Preminger, ending a longtime ban on the depiction of narcotics in the movies.

While writing "Golden Arm," Mr. Algren met Simone de Beauvoir, the French writer. She visited him in Chicago and revealed with him to Mexico, and he visited her in Paris. She wrote about their relationship in several books, and dedicated "The Mandarins" (1956) to him.

Mr. Algren moved to the East in 1974. To his surprise, he was elected last February to the American Academy-Institute of Arts and Letters, the U.S. counterpart of the French Academy. He was to have been formally inducted later this month.

He also had finished his latest novel, "The Devil's Sticking," a book about a black boxer accused of a triple homicide. It will be published first in West Germany in October.

Actress Margaret Lindsay, 70, Is Dead

LOS ANGELES — Margaret Lindsay, 70, a glamorous American brunette who posed as British to find work in her first film, died Friday of emphysema. She played opposite such leading men as John Wayne, Humphrey Bogart and Ronald Reagan and made 88 movies.

When Miss Lindsay was unable to find work after graduating during the Depression from the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York City, an agent suggested that she take advantage of Hollywood's newfound attraction with Britain.

Miss Lindsay, who was born Margaret Kies in Dubuque, Iowa, went to Britain, where she worked briefly. She affected a British accent and borrowed the last name of the British ambassador to the United States at that time.

Nelson Algren in 1975.

Margaret Lindsay in 1954.

As the oldest surviving relative of the czar, Prince Andrew had a direct claim to the Russian imperial throne and was head of the exiled Romanoff family in Britain.

He was descended from czars on both his father's side and his mother's side. He was born to Grand Duke Alexander Mikhailovich and Grand Duchess Xenia, Czar Nicholas' sister. Imprisoned during the Russian Revolution in 1917, he escaped to Paris, and then to England with the help of a distant relative, King George V.

NEW YORK (NVT) — Vice Adm. John Mylin Will, 81, who served as president of American Export Lines after a 40-year career in the U.S. Navy, died Friday.

Swiss Bank Corporation: Your key to success.

Controlled growth in a difficult environment

In 1980—a difficult year for international finance—Swiss Bank Corporation saw its total assets grow from Sfr. 69,180 million to Sfr. 74,100 million.

Meeting clients' needs

Swiss Bank Corporation takes the resourcefulness and reliability associated with the best of Swiss banking and matches them to today's market needs.

Swiss Bank Corporation Schweizerischer Bankverein Société de Banque Suisse

International Bond Prices—Week of May 7

Provided by White Weld Securities, London; a Division of Financiere Credit Suisse—First Boston

RECENT ISSUES

Amnt	Security	Shr/Conv	Issue Pr.	Mkt Pr.	Yield
dm 100	Pfizing	100	99 1/4	101 1/2	18.44
515	Gen Psychiatric 3.25	100	95.34
530	Alcoa 1981 A	100	88 1/2	13.83
5100	Royal Bank of Canada 12 1/2 % 1981 A	100	92.34	15.02
525	Horizon 1981 A	100	92.34
520	1 1/2 % 1981 A	100	102.64	15.61
dm 100	Canada 1981 A	100	99 1/4	101 1/2	18.44
540	Gen Electric 1981 A	100	91 1/2	15.13
540	1 1/2 % 1981 A	100	102.34	15.13
540	1 1/2 % 1981 A	100	99 1/4	15.59
540	1 1/2 % 1981 A	100	99 1/4	15.59
540	1 1/2 % 1981 A	100	99 1/4	15.59
540	1 1/2 % 1981 A	100	99 1/4	15.59
540	1 1/2 % 1981 A	100	99 1/4	15.59

STRAIGHT BONDS All Currencies Except DM

Amnt	Security	%	Mat	Middle Price	Yield	Ave Life	Cur
517	Australia	11 1/2	31 Jun	99 1/4	12.88	13.21	5.2
518	Australia	11 1/2	31 Jun	100	12.88	13.21	5.2
519	Australia	11 1/2	31 Jun	100	12.88	13.21	5.2
520	Australia	11 1/2	31 Jun	100	12.88	13.21	5.2
521	Australia	11 1/2	31 Jun	100	12.88	13.21	5.2
522	Australia	11 1/2	31 Jun	100	12.88	13.21	5.2
523	Australia	11 1/2	31 Jun	100	12.88	13.21	5.2
524	Australia	11 1/2	31 Jun	100	12.88	13.21	5.2
525	Australia	11 1/2	31 Jun	100	12.88	13.21	5.2

PETROFINA

Société Anonyme

Summary of the 1980 Annual Report

Highlights of the year

Finance in millions of BF	1980	1979
Petrofina consolidated profit	9,440	8,305
Cash flow	25,335	23,480
Sales and other revenue	339,310	279,463
Duties and taxes	95,323	72,748
Fixed assets (net of depreciation)	112,338	107,239
Exchange rate	29,222	29,313

Operations	1980	1979
Production of crude (in thousands of metric tons)	9,000	8,100
Crude oil processed in the Group refineries (in thousands of metric tons)	21,000	25,200
Sales of finished products (in thousands of metric tons)	25,500	28,300
Sales of natural gas (in millions of cubic metres)	6,700	6,000

Report of the Board of Directors

Petrofina's share in the Group's consolidated profit in 1980 was 9,440 million Belgian francs (S 323,056,000) compared with 8,305 million BF in 1979 and 6,035 million BF in 1978. The increase in 1980 was 13.7% compared with 1979 and 56.4% compared with 1978.

As in the previous year, these results were calculated using the last-in-first-out (LIFO) method of valuing stocks. They benefited from investments which we have made in recent years, particularly as regards our North American Companies, but their growth rate was reduced by the new Norwegian taxes and the level of selling prices of finished products in Europe and of petrochemicals. This latter activity, which suffered from the effect of the world economic recession, is nevertheless showing positive results for us. The overall results of our activities in Belgium itself were disappointing.

Cash flow was 25,335 million Belgian francs (S 866,984,000), an increase of 8%.

The consolidated turnover was 339 thousand million Belgian francs (S 11,611,452,000), an increase of 21%.

The yield on shareholders' equity amounted to 22.5% and the ratio of cash flow to shareholders' equity including minority interest, was 42%.

The Group's investment expenditure in 1980 amounted to 17,000 million Belgian francs, all of which was self-financed. The budget for 1981 is 27,500 million Belgian francs, an increase of 60%. Of this budget 59% has been assigned to exploration and production, principally in the North Sea and in North America; the remainder to investments with a rapid payout in our refineries and chemical plants and to improving our marketing organization.

We propose to increase the dividend to 2.45 Belgian francs per share, net of withholding tax, as compared with 230 francs last year. Since 1962, the amount distributed to shareholders has increased every year, from 520 million francs to 3,251 million in 1980. We also propose to distribute a scrip issue of 1 new share, free, for every 20 old shares held, effective January 1, 1981.

At the end of January 1981, the Canadian national oil company, Petro-Canada, made an offer to buy the shares of Petrofina Canada Inc. of which we own about 70%, over a period of three years, at a price of 120 Canadian dollars a share.

This offer was made by Petro-Canada in accordance with the Canadian government's policy as announced in its national energy programme.

Bearing in mind the penalising measures taken in Canada against companies in which the majority holding is foreign owned, we decided to make a favourable response to Petro-Canada's bid for an initial block of shares. This will enable the Canadian national oil company to own 51% of the capital of Petrofina Canada Inc. in 1981.

The sale of Petrofina Canada Inc shares will provide us with increased financial resources which will be assigned to new developments. It should be looked at from the point of view of the Group's growth.

We shall pursue our interests in Canada, particularly in exploration and the development of crude oil and gas and their derivatives.

A social clause in the agreement signed with Petro-Canada guarantees the continued employment of the personnel of Petrofina Canada Inc. on terms equivalent to those existing at present.

Finance

After a reduction of 4,000 million Belgian francs in 1979, long-term borrowings were still further reduced in 1980 by 2,600 million francs, to a figure of 48,000 million francs.

Despite the reduction of the monetary realignment fund as a result of the revaluation of the dollar at the end of the year, shareholders' equity increased by 5,200 million francs.

By the end of the year all borrowings at variable interest rates had been revised at the best terms available today or terminated.

Working capital increased from 10 to 12 thousand million Belgian francs.

The proposed net dividend of 3,251,424.155 Belgian francs (S 111,266,000) corresponds to a gross dividend of 4,064,280.194 Belgian francs (S 139,083,000) on which a withholding tax of 812,856,039 Belgian francs (S 27,817,000) is paid by the Company on behalf of the shareholders.

Coupon N° 75 will be payable as from May 21 1981 at the rate of SF 245 net after tax.

Copies of the English edition of the full report can be obtained on application to Petrofina, Public Relations Department, Rue de la Loi 33, 1040 Brussels

Amnt	Security	%	Mat	Middle Price	Yield	Ave Life	Cur
540	Swedish Company	10	31 Dec	100	12.88	13.21	5.2
540	Swedish Company	10	31 Dec	100	12.88	13.21	5.2
540	Swedish Company	10	31 Dec	100	12.88	13.21	5.2
540	Swedish Company	10	31 Dec	100	12.88	13.21	5.2
540	Swedish Company	10	31 Dec	100	12.88	13.21	5.2
540	Swedish Company	10	31 Dec	100	12.88	13.21	5.2
540	Swedish Company	10	31 Dec	100	12.88	13.21	5.2
540	Swedish Company	10	31 Dec	100	12.88	13.21	5.2
540	Swedish Company	10	31 Dec	100	12.88	13.21	5.2
540	Swedish Company	10	31 Dec	100	12.88	13.21	5.2

WestLB

Düsseldorf
Westdeutsche Landesbank, Head Office, P.O. Box 1128, 4000 Düsseldorf I
Telephone 9 26 31 22 - Telex 8 581 881 - International Bond Trading Dept.
Telephone 8 26 37 41 - Telex 8 581 882 - Intern. Institutional Investors Dept.

London
Westdeutsche Landesbank, 41, Moorgate, London EC2R 6AE/AUK
Telephone 638 6141 - Telex 887 984

Luxembourg
WestLB International S.A., 32-34, boulevard Grande-Duchesse Charlotte
Luxembourg, Telephone 44 74 11 - Telex 28 31

Hong Kong
WestLB Asia Limited, 1301 Hutchins House, 10 Harcourt Road, Hong Kong
Telephone 25 92 06 - Telex 76 142

Eurobonds · DM Bonds · Schuldscheine for dealing prices call

Leading Marketmakers in Eurobonds
WestLB
Westdeutsche Landesbank

JPL/col/50

S. Synfuel Project With Japanese, W. Germans, Appears to Be Doomed

By Sandra Evans Tealey Washington Post Service WASHINGTON — Just last July, President Reagan...

The project is a victim not only of the Reagan administration's free-market philosophy...

United States currently is importing about 6.4 million barrels of oil a day, down substantially from levels when Mr. Carter took office.

keep up international appearances while it negotiates the termination of the project with Japan and West Germany.

design, management and operation of the plant. Even before the Reagan budget cuts, the SRC-II plant was coming under harsh attack...

crat who is chairman of the subcommittee, also questions the relative value of synfuels projects in general, saying their high costs may not be warranted by what he feels may be their rather limited potential.

ve Abroad Typifies ount's Risk-Taking

Claude C. Duncan New York Times Service GOMERY, Ala. — Many before he signed as part of largest lump-sum interconstruction project...

Winton M. Blount 'In the entrepreneurial tradition'

Wary Analysts Reluctant to Give Buy Signal

By Carl Gewirtz International Herald Tribune PARIS — Are dollar bonds currently the "buy" of the decade with yields on medium- and long-term paper piercing a record-high 15 percent?

the longer run, the trend of rates will be downward." While he believes bond yields will remain relatively high, he adds, "I'm willing to stick my neck out and say, 'Why not buy bonds now?'"

While New York analysts do not anticipate any new tightening of the screws by the Fed, money-market rates are expected to remain firm and a further increase in the prime lending rate of commercial banks from the current 19 percent is forecast as banks catch up to the Fed's recent tightening.

banks from the current 19 percent is forecast as banks catch up to the Fed's recent tightening. Prices of dollar Eurobonds, meanwhile, ended the week on the rise and about two points above the mid-week lows.

Impulsive Purchase Winton M. Blount was born into a prosperous family in rural Union Springs, Ala., in 1921, and reared, as he says, "in the entrepreneurial tradition."

controversial Superdome and emerged untaunted, but they also took largely unprofitable plunges into motels, mobile homes, fabricated steel and grain elevators.

EUROBONDS PARIS — Setting a hectic pace that is keeping it in first place as the Euro market's largest single borrower so far this year, Mexico is again in the market seeking $300 million.

SYNDICATED LOANS the current government crisis does not cancel plans to borrow $500 million — there is a tremendous appetite for loans pegged to the prime rate. And even though Sweden has put what one banker calls "braces and belts" on the potential profits participating banks can earn through the alternative pricing based on the rate for 90-day certificates of deposit, the demand is enormous. More than $800 million is already spoken for in the Swedish deal.

Mexico Is Seeking $300 Million Credit By Carl Gewirtz International Herald Tribune PARIS — Setting a hectic pace that is keeping it in first place as the Euro market's largest single borrower so far this year, Mexico is again in the market seeking $300 million.

With the annual meeting of the Association of International Bond Dealers scheduled for Thursday and Friday in Hamburg, this week will be a short trading week with most dealers therefore unlikely to take much of a position. Meanwhile, with Wall Street (Continued on Page 9, Col. 3)

Embarking Risk Blount embraces risk, venturing into the or making a fixed-price long-term project — as he had — when most of his would demand a co-signment to protect them way inflation.

Mr. Blount eyed the possibilities for a new University of Riyadh campus for six years. Originally proposed as a $3.4 billion project, it was scaled down to $1.7 billion after student upheavals in that part of the world.

Also tapping that segment of the market is the Italian state medium-term credit agency I.M.I. It is seeking $150 million for eight years with interest set at a quarter-point over the prime rate of lead manager Manufacturers Hanover Trust.

Following the spinoff of the real estate — which includes a 25-acre shopping center on Maui, a 60-percent leasehold interest in an industrial park on Oahu, 27.3 acres of undeveloped commercial land, and the 50-acre Ala Moana Center and 20-story office building where Dillingham has its headquarters — "we'll have most of the company left," Mr. Cornuelle said.

With the annual meeting of the Association of International Bond Dealers scheduled for Thursday and Friday in Hamburg, this week will be a short trading week with most dealers therefore unlikely to take much of a position. Meanwhile, with Wall Street (Continued on Page 9, Col. 3)

With the annual meeting of the Association of International Bond Dealers scheduled for Thursday and Friday in Hamburg, this week will be a short trading week with most dealers therefore unlikely to take much of a position. Meanwhile, with Wall Street (Continued on Page 9, Col. 3)

Dillingham Seeks New Image in Spinoff

Amela G. Hollie New York Times Service HONOLULU — For years, the ULU Corp. has been known as one of the United States' most successful shopping centers, the Ala Moana Center in Honolulu.

But the disturbance created by Mr. Weinberg had an effect on the traditionally conservative company. He was right about the stock, the board decided.

The spinoff is purely intended to help shareholders, Mr. Cornuelle said. He said the benefits to the company are minimal. "But for once we can be perceived as an energy, transportation and construction company, which is what we've been all along," he said.

Following the spinoff of the real estate — which includes a 25-acre shopping center on Maui, a 60-percent leasehold interest in an industrial park on Oahu, 27.3 acres of undeveloped commercial land, and the 50-acre Ala Moana Center and 20-story office building where Dillingham has its headquarters — "we'll have most of the company left," Mr. Cornuelle said.

Following the spinoff of the real estate — which includes a 25-acre shopping center on Maui, a 60-percent leasehold interest in an industrial park on Oahu, 27.3 acres of undeveloped commercial land, and the 50-acre Ala Moana Center and 20-story office building where Dillingham has its headquarters — "we'll have most of the company left," Mr. Cornuelle said.

Following the spinoff of the real estate — which includes a 25-acre shopping center on Maui, a 60-percent leasehold interest in an industrial park on Oahu, 27.3 acres of undeveloped commercial land, and the 50-acre Ala Moana Center and 20-story office building where Dillingham has its headquarters — "we'll have most of the company left," Mr. Cornuelle said.

'The stock market doesn't give value to real estate,' says Dillingham President Herbert C. Cornuelle.

man Eichler Hill Richards of Los Angeles. In 1980, Dillingham earned 90 percent of its $56 million in operating profits from maritime, construction and energy operations and these businesses contributed 98 percent of the company's $1.36 billion in revenues.

Mr. Weinberg — now much more friendly with management, according to Mr. Cornuelle — "was more of a lightning rod than the cause of it," the 61-year-old chief executive said. "All the attention sort of conspired to bring us out in the limelight, which gave us reason to move faster rather than slower."

Following the spinoff of the real estate — which includes a 25-acre shopping center on Maui, a 60-percent leasehold interest in an industrial park on Oahu, 27.3 acres of undeveloped commercial land, and the 50-acre Ala Moana Center and 20-story office building where Dillingham has its headquarters — "we'll have most of the company left," Mr. Cornuelle said.

Following the spinoff of the real estate — which includes a 25-acre shopping center on Maui, a 60-percent leasehold interest in an industrial park on Oahu, 27.3 acres of undeveloped commercial land, and the 50-acre Ala Moana Center and 20-story office building where Dillingham has its headquarters — "we'll have most of the company left," Mr. Cornuelle said.

Following the spinoff of the real estate — which includes a 25-acre shopping center on Maui, a 60-percent leasehold interest in an industrial park on Oahu, 27.3 acres of undeveloped commercial land, and the 50-acre Ala Moana Center and 20-story office building where Dillingham has its headquarters — "we'll have most of the company left," Mr. Cornuelle said.

Following the spinoff of the real estate — which includes a 25-acre shopping center on Maui, a 60-percent leasehold interest in an industrial park on Oahu, 27.3 acres of undeveloped commercial land, and the 50-acre Ala Moana Center and 20-story office building where Dillingham has its headquarters — "we'll have most of the company left," Mr. Cornuelle said.

CURRENCY RATES

Table with columns for currency, rate, and date. Includes interbank exchange rates for May 8, 1981, and dollar values.

Advertisement for BANCO NACIONAL DO DESENVOLVIMENTO ECONOMICO. U.S. $260,000,000 MEDIUM TERM LOAN FACILITY. Lead Managed by Kuwait Foreign Trading Contracting & Investment Co. (S.A.K.) and Arab Banking Corporation (ABC).

International Bond Prices - Week of May 7

Provided by White Weld Securities, London, a Division of Financiere Credit Suisse - First Boston

Table of International Bond Prices. Columns include Amt, Security, % Mat, Middle Price, Yield, and Cur. Price. Rows list various international bonds from countries like Canada, Denmark, and the UK.

DM STRAIGHT BONDS

Table of DM Straight Bonds. Columns include Amt, Security, % Mat, Middle Price, Yield, and Cur. Price. Rows list various German bonds.

Table of Convertible Bonds. Columns include Amt, Security, % Mat, Middle Price, Yield, and Cur. Price. Rows list various convertible bonds from companies like Amstar and Amstar.

Table of Highest Current Yield On convertibles having a conversion premium of less than 10%. Columns include Amt, Security, Middle Price, Yield, and Cur. Price. Rows list various convertible bonds.

UBS advertisement for Calgary. Includes a map of Alberta and Saskatchewan, text about UBS expansion, and contact information for the Calgary office. Also includes a small 'INTERNATIONAL BIDDING' section and a 'Jeep' advertisement.

S. Synfuel Project With Japanese, W. Germans, Seems Doomed

(Continued from Page 7) acknowledges he can't see the funding could...

Gulf Oil's president, Jerry McAfee, and Vice President W.W. Finley to urge them to increase Gulf's investment in the plant...

high-risk and expensive synthetic fuels programs," Sen. Byrd said. Sen. Byrd said he was told that Gulf had looked long and hard at the program...

with the plan now, one West German source said. Japan, meanwhile, feels jilted. A confidential communication from U.S. Ambassador to Japan Mike Mansfield...

as saying they had been pressured by the United States into participating in the project in the first place, over objections in and out of the Japanese government.

significant adverse impact on other bilateral and trilateral energy R&D agreements with Japan, Mr. Mansfield cabled. Delegates from the United States, Japan and West Germany met in Tokyo in April to discuss the synfuel project...

Wary Analysts Reluctant to Urge Buying

(Continued from Page 7) prices in retreat, the one sector of the Eurobond market that appeared to be functioning smoothly fell into some disarray. The convertibles on offer failed to attract support...

at par, closed the week at 98 1/2-99. The 15-year convertible for Hexcel International Finance was cut to $10 million from the indicated target of $12 million.

percent and a conversion premium of around 5 percent. In the floating-rate sector, the Industrial Bank of Japan Finance Co., guaranteed by the Industrial Bank of Japan, is offering $30 million of seven-year notes bearing interest at a quarter-point over the average of the bid-and-offered rate for six-month interbank deposits.

Commercial Italiana is seeking $25 million through an issue of five-year floating-rate CDs sold in the Asia dollar market. Interest will be set at 3/16 above the six-month Singapore interbank offered rate for the first three years and at a quarter-point above thereafter.

Rising dollar interest rates pulled up rates in West Germany, and the market for DM-denominated Eurobonds, barely sputtering along, was on the verge of shutting down again, Frankfurt bankers reported. Despite the record-high yield offered on the 100-million-DM, eight-year issue for Belgelcric Finance BV, investor response was reported to be "hesitant."

Mexico Seeks $300 Million With Prime-Link Option

(Continued from Page 7) prime rate as a base, and to try to alter that which is probably more difficult than coming for the first time with a new technique. Very reluctantly, bankers admit that with Sweden having blazed the way, ultimately all prime-based loans will have some kind of "braces and belts."

There are three possible pricings under the Swedish formula. If all is normal, the margin is 15 basis points over the prime, rising to 25 points over the prime in the latter years. If the prime rate for two weeks exceeds by 110 basis points the adjusted CD rate, the interest falls to the adjusted CD rate plus 110 basis (1.1 percentage) points.

And to protect the banks against a prime rate that, for say, political reasons fails to keep up with money-market rates, if the adjusted CD rate exceeds the prime rate, the lending cost is the CD rate plus the margin.

Chile's national electricity utility, Endesa, is in the market seeking $86 million for eight years at terms representing a new low for that country — an eight-year loan with interest set at 3/4 point over Libor, down from the previous split 3/4-point spread on Chilean deals.

Thailand is in the market for $220 million, of which $55 million is designated for military equipment. The remaining $165 million is for the Electricity Generating Authority of Thailand (EGAT). Both operations are for eight years and the margin on both is an even 1/2 split 1/2-point over Libor.

Jumbo Loan for Belgium

Why 110 basis points instead of 100 or 90 or 80? No particular reason, bankers say, grating for the inevitable negotiations lowering that band. One candidate to drive for a tougher bargain than Sweden, one banker says, is Belgium, which is expected to return to the market for a jumbo loan by mid-year.

Chile's national electricity utility, Endesa, is in the market seeking $86 million for eight years at terms representing a new low for that country — an eight-year loan with interest set at 3/4 point over Libor, down from the previous split 3/4-point spread on Chilean deals.

Thailand is in the market for $220 million, of which $55 million is designated for military equipment. The remaining $165 million is for the Electricity Generating Authority of Thailand (EGAT). Both operations are for eight years and the margin on both is an even 1/2 split 1/2-point over Libor.

Thailand is in the market for $220 million, of which $55 million is designated for military equipment. The remaining $165 million is for the Electricity Generating Authority of Thailand (EGAT). Both operations are for eight years and the margin on both is an even 1/2 split 1/2-point over Libor.

Thailand is in the market for $220 million, of which $55 million is designated for military equipment. The remaining $165 million is for the Electricity Generating Authority of Thailand (EGAT). Both operations are for eight years and the margin on both is an even 1/2 split 1/2-point over Libor.

Public Auction

ONE OF THE LARGEST CANNERY SALES EVER OFFERED AT AUCTION! 3-DAY SALE 3 PLANTS MAY 27th, 28th & 29th FORMERLY OF: TILLIE LEWIS FOODS MODESTO, CALIFORNIA

FREE ILLUSTRATED BROCHURE UPON REQUEST WRITE OR CALL: The Rabin Brothers Auctioneers & Appraisers 660 Third Street San Francisco, California 94107 (415) 543-9500

Market Turnover Week Ended May 8 (Millions of U.S. Dollars) Total 2,387.3 Dealer 1,559.1 Non-dealer 828.2 Cedel N.A. Eurocl. N.A.

Market Turnover Week Ended May 8 (Millions of U.S. Dollars) Total 2,387.3 Dealer 1,559.1 Non-dealer 828.2 Cedel N.A. Eurocl. N.A.

Market Turnover Week Ended May 8 (Millions of U.S. Dollars) Total 2,387.3 Dealer 1,559.1 Non-dealer 828.2 Cedel N.A. Eurocl. N.A.

Advertisement for The Dorsey Corporation, featuring 1,000,000 Shares of Common Stock and a list of financial institutions including Dean Witter Reynolds Inc., Halsey Stuart Shields, Eastman Paine Webber, etc.

Advertisement for TDB (France) opening in Monte Carlo, featuring Trade Development Bank (France) S.A. and TDB Holding Group with US$ 9.7 billion in assets.

NEW YORK (AP)—Weekly Over the Counter stocks giving the high, low, and last bid prices for the week with the net change from the previous week's last bid prices. All quotations supplied by the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. are not actual transactions but are representative interdealer prices of which these securities could have been sold. Prices do not include retail markups, commissions or concessions. Sales supplied by NASD.

Table with columns: Sales In (100s High Low Last Net Chg), Stock Name, and Price/Change. Includes various stock tickers like AEL, AHC, AIF, etc.

Table with columns: Sales In (100s High Low Last Net Chg), Stock Name, and Price/Change. Includes various stock tickers like AEL, AHC, AIF, etc.

Table with columns: Sales In (100s High Low Last Net Chg), Stock Name, and Price/Change. Includes various stock tickers like AEL, AHC, AIF, etc.

Over-the-Counter

Table with columns: Sales In (100s High Low Last Net Chg), Stock Name, and Price/Change. Includes various stock tickers like AEL, AHC, AIF, etc.

Table with columns: Sales In (100s High Low Last Net Chg), Stock Name, and Price/Change. Includes various stock tickers like AEL, AHC, AIF, etc.

Table with columns: Sales In (100s High Low Last Net Chg), Stock Name, and Price/Change. Includes various stock tickers like AEL, AHC, AIF, etc.

American Exchange Options

Table with columns: Option & price, Class, and various option contracts. Includes sub-sections for 'For the Week Ending May 8, 1981' and 'Option & price'.

Chicago Exchange Options

Table with columns: Option & price, Class, and various option contracts. Includes sub-sections for 'For the Week Ending May 8, 1981' and 'Option & price'.

Advertisement for Associated Japanese Bank (International) Limited. Includes financial statements comparing 27th Feb. 1981 and 29th Feb. 1980. Lists assets like Share Capital, Retained Profit, Subordinated Loans, Deposits, Loans, Total Assets, Profit before Taxation, and Profit after Taxation. Also features the 'ajb' logo and names of partner banks: The Sanwa Bank Limited, The Mitsu Bank Limited, The Dai-ichi Kangyo Bank Limited, and The Nomura Securities Co. Ltd.

Advertisement for Gold Options (quotes in $/oz.) and Valuers White Weld S.A. with contact information: 121 Geneva 1, Switzerland. Tel. 31 0251 - Telex 28305.

Advertisement for FOCUS ON UNITED ARAB EMIRATES. Text: 'A special supplement in the International Herald Tribune. Thursday, May 14.'

Partial advertisement on the right edge of the page, including text like 'bond', 'an', 'in', 'EQUITY', 'At your s', and 'and'.

Over-the-Counter

Table with columns: 100s High, Low, Last, Chgs. Lists various stock prices and changes.

Table with columns: 100s High, Low, Last, Chgs. Lists various stock prices and changes.

Table with columns: 100s High, Low, Last, Chgs. Lists various stock prices and changes.

Valenzuela Wins 7th Straight for Dodgers

NEW YORK — Fernando Valenzuela, the spectacular Los Angeles Dodger rookie lefthander, survived a shaky start Friday to record his fifth shutout and seventh straight victory of the season, 1-0 over the New York Mets.

Fernando Valenzuela in action Friday.

FRIDAY BASEBALL

la's earned run average to 0.29 and left him one short of the record for consecutive starts won by a rookie, set by Bob Ferris of the 1945 Boston Red Sox. The Dodgers scored the game's only run in the first inning when Dusty Baker singled home Ken Landreaux.

Braves 4, Cubs 3

In Atlanta, Glenn Hubbard hit his first home run of the season, a bases-empty shot with one out in the 11th, as the Braves nipped Chicago, 4-3. The homer came off Dick Tidrow, who had retired 22 consecutive batters.

A's 2, Brewers 0

In the American League, in Oakland, Calif., Steve McCatty pitched a four-hitter for his fifth complete game and second shutout as the A's stopped Milwaukee, 2-0. A home run by Dwayne Murphy in the first and Jeff Newman's sacrifice fly in the fourth produced Oakland's runs.

Mariners 3, Yankees 2

In Seattle, Tom Facione hit his first homer of the year to lead off the ninth inning, powering the Mariners past New York, 3-2.

Tigers 6, Angels 1

In Anaheim, Calif., Steve Kemp hit a two-run sixth-inning home run to snap a 1-1 tie as Detroit went on to defeat the Angels, 6-1. Steve Renko (1-3) took the loss for California.

White Sox 9, Royals 5

In Chicago, Wayne Nordhagen's two-run homer and triples by Chet Lemon and Ron LeFlore highlighted six-run fourth-inning White Sox rally in a 9-5 victory over Kansas City.

Major League Standings

Table showing National League and American League standings with columns for team, wins, losses, percentage, and games behind.

More Sports On Page 13

Volkswagen Prices The Associated Press WOLFSBURG, West Germany — Volkswagenwerk Sunday announced price increases averaging 3.9 percent on autos sold in the West German market.

NL Industries, Inc. has acquired Sperry-Sun, Inc. a wholly owned subsidiary of Sun Company, Inc. Kidder, Peabody & Co. Incorporated. The undersigned initiated this transaction and acted as financial advisor to Sun Company, Inc.

AKBANK Turkey's second largest commercial bank and the leading bank in the private sector Balance sheet as at table with columns: 1.1.1981, 1.1.1980, Rate of increase %. Rows include Assets, Liabilities, and Stockholders' Equity.

"At your service for all financial, commercial and industrial matters in Turkey"

AKBANK HEAD OFFICE, INTERNATIONAL DIVISION, NEW YORK REPRESENTATIVE, LONDON REPRESENTATIVE, FRANKFURT REPRESENTATIVE. Includes contact information for various offices.

LEGAL SERVICES, CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS, ESCORTS & GUIDES. Includes listings for immigration, travel, and escort services.

CROSSWORD

By Eugene T. Malaska

- ACROSS
1 Explosive device;
5 Central;
10 Brother of Faisal;
14 Item sometimes containing cottonseed oil;
15 Water conduit;
16 Raw-silk color;
17 Brown a roast;
18 Greeks' modern name for Greece;
19 Jenny wren's home;
20 July 4, e.g.;
23 Mother Seton was one;
24 Zodiacal sign;
25 Style of shoe;
29 Median's kin;
33 Rival of Apollo for Maresia's love;
34 Feed on herbage;
36 Slovenly person;
37 Cover;
38 "Spring ahead" time in N.Y.C.;
39 Lure for Spanish explorers;
40 Choice meat cut;
42 Something of value;
44 Horse of a certain color;
45 Trails of light;
47 In the main;
49 Collier Jake Blacklock is one;
50 Decorative vase;
51 The Cougars from Pullman;
60 — Stanley Gardner;
61 Item in adenology;
62 Lamb's pen name;
63 C.P. or Phoebe;
64 Set of furniture;
65 Frees from;
66 Drags;
67 Jon Vickers is one;
68 Let it stand;
7 Soothe;
8 Maid-servant;
9 Oriental style;
10 Determination;
11 These about to graduate;
12 Made a hole-in-one;
13 Dipper's milieu, for short;
14 Chore;
21 Not at home;
22 Grant or Radziwill;
25 Legal documents;
26 Simpleton;
27 Opposite of zenith;
28 Exert force;
29 Early inhabitant of Mexico City;
30 Distant;
31 Goat antelope;
32 Strutous black;
35 Sales pitches;
41 Sibling's sons;
42 In the midst of;
43 Celestial clapper;
44 Tentants;
46 Nickname for Onassis;
48 D.C. destination of some income;
51 "Go — young man";
52 Italian river;
53 Traffic sign;
54 Scrapbook accessory;
55 Tinfoil on the back of a mirror;
56 Preposition;
57 Came to rest;
58 Sometime follower of spring;
59 One of Kipling's "twain";
1 Petty officer, for short;
2 Genus of olives;
3 Good source of protein;
4 Chips created by carpenters;
5 Money in Mainz;
6 Spanish dish of meat and vegetables;

Solution to Friday's Puzzle

WEATHER

Table with columns for city, high, low, and weather conditions for various global locations.

RADIO NEWSCASTS

BBC WORLD SERVICE

Broadsheet of 2000, 0200, 0300, 0400, 0500, 0600, 0700, 0800, 0900, 1100, 1200, 1400, 1700, 1800, 2000, 2200, 2300 (all times GMT).

VOICE OF AMERICA

The Voice of America broadcasts world news in English on the hour and at 28 minutes after the hour during various periods to different regions.

ASK FOR IT EVERY DAY. EVERYWHERE YOU GO.

International Herald Tribune We've got news for you.

PEANUTS

B.C.

B.LONDIE

B.BEETLE

B.ANDY

B.WIZARD

B.REX

B.DOONESBURY

JUMBLE

Jumble word game section with a cartoon and a grid of letters to be unscrambled.

DENNIS THE MENACE

BOOKS

CORSAIR

The Life of J. Pierpont Morgan

By Andrew Sinclair. Little, Brown. Illustrated. 269 pp. $1.

Reviewed by John Leonard

OF J. Pierpont Morgan, James Stillman of the National City Bank once remarked: "But then you see, he is a poet; Morgan is a poet. One tends to doubt this. Poetry should not be held accountable for the vagrant romantic surges of phantasms, even if, like Cymbeline, Morgan had a nose problem. That Morgan appreciated actresses and ancient Egypt is, perhaps, commendable. That he seems to have identified with the pirate Henry Morgan, and named three of his yachts Corsair, is somewhat winning. That he suffered variously from rheumatic fever, skin eruptions, headaches, stomach attacks, fainting fits, melancholies and acute insipid sympathy, he sounds like Alice James. That he acquired art and women is understandable. That he managed to die in Rome, after an apparently successful seduction of a 50-year-old aristocratic Englishwoman, is at least risible."

Silence and Cuban Cigars

But poets are made of sterner stuff. Morgan specialized in silence and Cuban cigars. He punished his son as severely as he had been punished by his father. His office was in the habit of investing, as a private bank, in properties it happened to control as a holding company. These properties were not inconsiderable, including U.S. Steel, AT&T, International Harvester, General Electric, many railroads and a number of shipping lines. He missed the point of motor cars (Ford) and plastics (Du Pont). He was, moreover, an Episcopalian.

We do tend to dream about him. Certainly John Dos Passos did so in "1919," and so did E.L. Doctorow in "Ragtime." A copy of the famous Steichen portrait, which is on the jacket of this biography, used to hang in a place of honor in my bathroom: I am now informed that what looked like a knife in his left hand was actually the carved end of the arm of the chair in which he sat, with its intimidating bulk, for a five-minute snapshot session. His close-set eyes, anyway, were more compelling than what seemed a naked blade or what was obviously a regrettable nose. Dos Passos spoke of "magic eyes"; Andrew Sinclair calls them "laser beams."

Sinclair is an English novelist — "My Friend Judas" and "Cog" and "Magog" were stylish fictions — who has for obscure reasons regressed to the writing of biographies of the likes of Warren G. Harding, Jack London, John Ford and now Morgan. The regression has not served the cause of prose with much distinction. "Corsair" is workmanlike, a box of facts dumped almost willfully on the head of the reader. When in doubt, he settles for a cliché: "Between the devil and the deep blue sea" is one of many examples.

If we are to continue to dream about this quintessential merchant prince — who really wanted to be Edward VII or "to have ruled as a pope in Rome, a Burgundian duke, an emine prince or a belted House of Lords" — we read more. A biographer of Morgan summons the energy to speculate on Morgan's unendingly speculating on the vagrant romantic surges of phantasms, even if, like Cymbeline, Morgan had a nose problem. That Morgan appreciated actresses and ancient Egypt is, perhaps, commendable. That he seems to have identified with the pirate Henry Morgan, and named three of his yachts Corsair, is somewhat winning. That he suffered variously from rheumatic fever, skin eruptions, headaches, stomach attacks, fainting fits, melancholies and acute insipid sympathy, he sounds like Alice James. That he acquired art and women is understandable. That he managed to die in Rome, after an apparently successful seduction of a 50-year-old aristocratic Englishwoman, is at least risible.

Why so little about his mother, after all, the daughter of a Unitarian Boston preacher? In Dos Passos' report, the Christmas Morgan had his read aloud Dickens' "A Carol" from the original in which, of course, he owned that he favored, in birds, and in dogs the Pekingese about the letters of Fifty and the collector works and Jacques Rousseau? Was Doctorow to us when he said that his favorite story in literature Hawthorne's "The Birthmark" because he thought about his nose? Did he mean Ford? Was he, possibly, a cynic? Sinclair is silent.

Sinclair is perfunctory in "watered" stock, superficial count of the Homestead preposterous in his two-section of radical Republican Reconstruction. He notes, comment, Morgan's prediction of a Saxon persuasion in his quarters. He scorns Morgan's if he were weary. His pronouncement to us when he said that his favorite story in literature Hawthorne's "The Birthmark" because he thought about his nose? Did he mean Ford? Was he, possibly, a cynic? Sinclair is silent.

Sinclair is perfunctory in "watered" stock, superficial count of the Homestead preposterous in his two-section of radical Republican Reconstruction. He notes, comment, Morgan's prediction of a Saxon persuasion in his quarters. He scorns Morgan's if he were weary. His pronouncement to us when he said that his favorite story in literature Hawthorne's "The Birthmark" because he thought about his nose? Did he mean Ford? Was he, possibly, a cynic? Sinclair is silent.

John Leonard is on the staff of the New York Times.

CHESS

By Robbles

IF it were really better to be lucky than good, this sentiment would not be expressed just by bitter losers. But no one would deny that there are times when it is best to be both lucky and good.

The fascinating, though flawed, game between the American grandmasters Yasser Seirawan and Peter Biyassas in the third round of the Louis Statham International Tournament in Lone Pine, Calif., showed both qualities in large measure.

Seirawan adopted 3 B-B4, bringing about a quiet, manning London system with colors reversed, probably because he favors slow, maneuvering, positional play, although the game was in for a drastic change later on.

An important alternative to the formation Biyassas used here would have been 6 ... N-B3; 7 QN-Q2, Q-K1; 8 B-R2, P-K4; 9 P-R, N-KP; 10 NcN, P-R1; 11 N-B4, N-Q2, as in the game between Vasily Smyslov and Svetozar Gligoric in Vienna, 1957.

It might have been more secure for Biyassas to substitute 10 ... P-Q3 for 10 ... N-K5 so he could answer 11 P-R5 by 11 ... P-Q4.

With 23 ... N-B1, Biyassas set up a reliable defense of his isolated backward QRP that freed his rooks for a counterattack on the backward White QNP.

Seirawan's 26 BxP, NxB; 27 RxB brought his advanced rook into jeopardy after 27 ... P-Q4, but perhaps he could have made it safely through the complications arising from 28 P-Q5; P-R5; 29 P-KP; P-RP; 30 P-R5, instead, he erred with 28 B-B7, and rather than drop the exchange after 28 ... B-B1, he gave up a rook with 29 P-B6, Q-B1; 30 K-Q7, R-N3; 31 N-K5, B-R.

Position after 41 ...

Seirawan's 26 BxP, NxB; 27 RxB brought his advanced rook into jeopardy after 27 ... P-Q4, but perhaps he could have made it safely through the complications arising from 28 P-Q5; P-R5; 29 P-KP; P-RP; 30 P-R5, instead, he erred with 28 B-B7, and rather than drop the exchange after 28 ... B-B1, he gave up a rook with 29 P-B6, Q-B1; 30 K-Q7, R-N3; 31 N-K5, B-R.

Table with columns for White and Black moves and their corresponding algebraic notation.

Vertical text on the right edge of the page, partially cut off.

كشمان النهر

North Stars Win, Face Islanders

MINNAPOLIS, Minn. — The North Stars won their first-round playoff game against the Minnesota Fighting Clouds...

Steve Payne broke open a 2-1 contest with a power play goal at 5:59 of the final period. With Calgary's Bob Murdoch off for elbowing...

Minnesota eliminated Calgary in the NHL semifinals.

Boston's Larry Bird got between Rockets' Moses Malone, left, and Robert Reid to grab a loose ball in the National Basketball Association championship's Game 3, won by the Celtics, 94-71.

Red Smith

New York Has a Fight on Its Hands

NEW YORK — Exactly four years ago Monday night, Ken Norton threw an overhand right into the comely features of Duane Bobick...

Celtics, Rockets Tied, 2-All As Finals Return to Boston

HOUSTON — Mike Dunleavy and Moses Malone led a third-quarter Houston charge that carried the Rockets to 91-86 triumph over the Boston Celtics Sunday...

Malone, Houston's 6-foot-10 workhorse center, scored eight points in close Sunday as the Rockets opened the second half with a 10-2 surge...

Watson Struggles To 3d Round Lead In U.S. Golf Event

DALLAS — Tom Watson, staggering to bogeys on three of the first six holes, struggled to a two-over-par 72 Saturday to carry a one-shot lead over Bobby Clampett...

Dibbs Holds Off Kirmayr, Wins Champions' Tourney

NEW YORK — Eddie Dibbs, playing nearly flawless tennis, won the Tennis Tournament of Champions Sunday, 6-3, 6-2 over Carlos Kirmayr...

Orioles Sweep Doubleheader With Rangers

The Orioles opened the scoring when John Lowenstein doubled in the fourth and came in on Terry Crowley's single. They added a run in the fifth when Belanger singled and later scored on Lenn Sakata's single...

Friday's and Saturday's Major League Line Scores

Table with columns for Day (Friday, Saturday), League (National, American), and Game details (Team 1, Team 2, Score, Pitchers).

OH, NO — Manchester City winger Tommy Hutchinson was properly concerned when, with 10 minutes left in Saturday's 100th F.A. Cup soccer final...

Baseball Roundup

White Sox 3, Royals 0. In Chicago, Jim Morrison drove in two runs with a single and a sacrifice fly and Richard Dotson pitched a five-hitter as the White Sox shut out slumping Kansas City, 3-0.

More Sports On Page 11

Language

Bop and Go Signs

By William Safire

NEW YORK — The following make up a fusillade of usage: "You have to be at your best, too," Farrah Fawcett told an interviewer, "bopping along all the time, happy, upbeat, friendly."

beat, perhaps from a percussion instrument; then "bop" absorbed the lilting connotations of a piece of music in progress, and now fuses the sound with the music: To "bop along," or "bop over," means to go in a carefree, swinging style.

Now that "bop" has been established as a merry slang synonym for an intransitive "go," what has happened to "go"? It has become a synonym for "say."

Dick Cavett, who brings a concern for language to the airwaves, was asking me, "Have you noticed the way he says 'is out and the goes' is it?"

I have. So has Ronald Butters of Duke University, writing in American Speech magazine about what he terms "the narrative go." Example of the new use of "go": "So George comes at Louis with the knife, and Louis goes, 'Don't cut me.'"

When did people start talking that way, or going like that? Butters cites a couple of meanings of "go" that border on "say": go over means "repeat" and go through means "discuss." But he believes that the origin of the narrative "go" so common in young people's slang today is in imitative interjections — "go bang!" — and in the introductory word to the imitation of an animal's sound: "The cow goes, 'moo.' The duck goes, 'quack.'"

He cites the nursery rhyme: This little pig went to market This little pig stayed home This little pig had roast beef And this little pig had none And this little pig went, 'Wee-wee-wee,' all the way home.

"I do not mean to imply," writes Butters, "that Americans now under the age of 35 are so influenced by having their little piggies pulled that a semantic change resulted. My own little piggy was regularly and vigorously pulled in the early 1940s, but no such change took place. At the same time, however, the imitative use of go — present in the language for centuries — would seem in a more general way the most likely candidate for the source of the semantic extension."

Here is where language does its magic: "Bop" started as a sound imitating a blow; then it was adopted by musicians to mean a

Philadelphia Story

From Giant Clothespin to Wrong-Way William Penn, The City Is Bursting With Sculpture

By Carolyn Roessel

PHILADELPHIA — The taxi-careened around the corner and there it was, looming rust-colored 53 feet above the bustle of downtown Philadelphia.

A clothespin. "Gee, look at that big clothespin thing," the driver said with disgust. His passenger, the sculptor Claes Oldenburg, immediately confessed that he had fashioned Philadelphia's most notorious piece of art.

"You did that?" said the driver, slightly more impressed. "Well, at least it ain't a horse and rider."

The Oldenburg clothespin is one of more than 850 pieces of outdoor sculpture scattered through Philadelphia: the first city in the United States to pass legislation requiring some builders to pledge 1 percent of construction costs to public art.

Philadelphia has the first bronze cast of Rodin's tumultuous "Gate of Hell" (the second went to the Rodin Museum in Paris); Frederic Remington's "The Cowboy," the only large bronze piece ever made by the illustrator of the Old West; and Emmanuel Fremiet's stoic "Joan of Arc," now gilded.

"It's astonishing, and it's something that nobody really knows about," said Richard Boyle, chairman of the city Redevelopment Authority's Fine Arts Committee.

Forty U.S. cities have adopted 1-percent legislation such as that pioneered in Philadelphia in 1959, but the city's unsung collection got its start 87 years earlier with the Fairmount Park Art Association, a group that used private donations to buy the 250 statues that dot the huge city park.

"Even in [New York's] Central Park there is not the collection of sculpture we have in Fairmount Park," said Janet Kardon, director of the University of Pennsylvania's Institute of Contemporary Art. "If you took a bus tour through the park you could see the history of American sculpture in living color."

The same year the Fairmount Park Art Association began its work, Alexander Milne Calder, the first of three generations of the famous Philadelphia sculpting family, began a 22-year task of transforming City Hall into what one art expert called a "bas relief sculpture."

37-foot statue of William Penn, weighing 26 tons, was hoisted to the top of the building in 1894.

"To grandfather's everlasting disappointment," wrote Margaret Calder Hayes, "as he watched helplessly from the ground his statue of Penn, the crowning piece of more than 20 years of labor, was mounted on the dome of City Hall facing the wrong way."

Lumpy Bronze Mass Across from City Hall, in striking contrast, is a lumpy, twisted bronze mass of legs, arms, torsos and heads — Jacques Lipchitz's "Government of the People." The piece was erected in 1976 beside the city's Municipal Services Building under the 1-percent law. Former Mayor Frank L. Rizzo said the work "looked like some plasterers dropped a pile of plaster."

Oldenburg's clothespin and the enormous cracked button, 15 feet in diameter, that he plans to deliver to the University of Pennsylvania campus this spring, were commissioned under the 1-percent regulation for all public building projects or buildings constructed on land cleared by the city Redevelopment Authority.

Proponents of the public sculpture say it enriches urban life. "I like the idea that the passer-by is surprised," Kardon said. "So many of the passers-by have never entered an art museum. Public sculpture is bringing art museum contents out into the street."

Four purple, red and green aluminum letters, LOVE, proved that Philadelphians who stream by the outdoor art actually notice it. Sculptor Robert Indiana loaned his LOVE rendition to the city during the U.S. Bicentennial.

"When that was removed there was a fantastic public outcry. It was amazing. Ordinary people had come to like it, to accept it there," Boyle said. Eugene Dixon, owner of the Philadelphia 76ers basketball team, finally stepped in with $35,000 to purchase the sculpture for the city.

Since the 1-percent law was instituted, several private developers not subject to the city's public art regulations have voluntarily purchased public sculpture.

Jack McDermott, senior vice president of the Radnor Corp., said he was surprised by the response the firm received when it asked the city Art Commission to critique a $125,000 bronze statue proposed for a large downtown office building.

The 17½-foot sculpture, "The Family," depicted a couple and two small children, all nude.

Oldenburg's clothespin.

"I was surprised to hear one of the Art Commission members saying he didn't want to be responsible for introducing nudity in art to Philadelphia," McDermott said. "There's nudity all over Philadelphia as far as art is concerned." Pope John Paul II celebrated mass from a platform built over one such sculpture, the Fountains of Rivers by second-generation Alexander Stirling Calder.

PEOPLE: Former American Ho

Richard Queen, the American hostage freed by Iran last year for health reasons, will return to the Foreign Service next month at the U.S. Embassy in London. Queen said in Bangor, Maine, the 29-year-old former vice consul at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran said he was writing a book, to be published next fall, about his 250 days in captivity before his release last July. After returning to his parents' home in Lincolnville, Maine, he began working at the State Department in Washington. His illness, which was diagnosed as multiple sclerosis, is in remission, he said, adding, "I hope it stays that way."

Another former Iran hostage, Air Force Col. Thomas Schaefer, has accepted a professorship at the University of Puget Sound in Washington state after rejecting jobs in places ranging from Hawaii to Germany. Starting this summer, Schaefer will teach aerospace studies in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps program.

Prince Charles and his fiancée, Lady Diana Spencer, unveiled an exhibition over the weekend dedicated to the memory of Charles' great uncle, Lord Mountbatten, who was killed in 1979 by Irish terrorists. The exhibit consisted of books, photographs, dress uniforms and other memorabilia accumulated during Mountbatten's public service, including his tenure as the last British viceroy of India. It will be housed at Mountbatten's estate, Broadlands, in Hampshire.

Bess Truman, widow of President Harry S. Truman, was able to sit up in a chair over the weekend, two days after undergoing hip surgery in Kansas City, Mo. Mrs. Truman, 96, was in stable condition in intensive care, recovering from surgical reconstruction of a broken hip.

A company compiling an anthology of "bloopers" for an NBC television special has been told by the White House not to use 1940s footage of Ronald Reagan goofing up. The "bloopers" are mistakes — by celebrities such as Alan Alda, Carol Burnett, George Burns, Gladys Jackson, Henry Mancini and Milton Berle — that were edited out of films and TV shows. Dick Scobran, a spokesman for Dick Clark Co., which is producing the anthology in Los Angeles, said the White House turned down a request to use material showing Reagan, and did not give Angie Dickinson has beautiful legs in Hollywood — strictly a profession of course — of members of Angeles County Podiatry. She topped a "Ten" selected in observance of Foot Health Week, which Monday. "She has a good mental relationship of the mental musculature and takes good care of her feet," said the assessor, Jay Borstein, who made the list were Agret, Suzanne Somers, Fairchild, Barbara Eden, Principal, Marie Osmond, Boone, Juliet Prowse and Ter.

The son of the late dep. Mohammed Reza Pahlavi on holiday in Switzerland reported foreign trip since he died in exile in Egypt in 1979. The family is in Cairo. Cyrus Reza 20, has been living in Egypt with his mother, and brother. The family is Islamic revolution of Khomeini in 1979.

Jean S. Harris watched segment of a television trial of her murder trial in New York. Harris was reported happy by Ellen Barry's report that her mother, Harris, to have felt that she lacked the sharpness and changes of her eight days' stay in her trial for the killing of Dr. Herman Tarnik. "Scarlete Diet" author, mer girls' school director as a teacher's aide at Hills, where she is serving a sentence. The sentence being appealed.

-SAMUEL

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

ANNOUNCEMENTS, MOVING, INTERDEAN Worldwide door to door movers, REAL ESTATE FOR SALE, RENT OR SHARE, EMPLOYMENT, BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES, COMPUTER PORTRAITS, OFFICE SERVICES, DIAMONDS, OLD NEWSPAPERS, AT HOME IN PARIS, PARIS PROMO, STAYING IN PARIS?

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE, RENT OR SHARE, EMPLOYMENT, BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES, COMPUTER PORTRAITS, OFFICE SERVICES, DIAMONDS, OLD NEWSPAPERS, AT HOME IN PARIS, PARIS PROMO, STAYING IN PARIS?

AUTOS TAX FREE, SERVICES, BAGGAGE SHIPPING, PLACE YOUR CLASSIFIED QUICKLY AND EASILY, AUTOMOBILES, ASTON MARTIN LAGONDA, BRITISH MOTORS, AUTO SHIPPING, AUTOS TAX FREE, ROLLS-ROYCE BRITISH MOTORS, MONEY SAVERS, TAX FREE CARS

Vertical text on the far right edge of the page, partially cut off.